SUMMARY OF THE CONTENT OF THE LEGISLATIVE RULE, AND A DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE RULE'S PURPOSE AND ALL PROPOSED CHANGES TO THE RULE:

The West Virginia Standard Valuation Law establishes a principle-based valuation methodology that is applicable, subject to specified exceptions, to life, health and annuity business written after the operative date of the uniform valuation manual adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC). To enable uniform and simultaneous implementation by participating states, the Standard Valuation Law provides that the valuation manual will only become operative when a sufficient number of states have adopted substantially similar laws before July 1 of the preceding year. The valuation manual was adopted by the NAIC on December 2, 2012. In 2017, the number of states adopting principle-based valuation at the state level reached the specified supermajority. Since that time, 51 jurisdictions have now engaged principle-based valuation reserving legislation, and the NAIC began requiring it as an accreditation standard, effective January 1, 2020. Under principle-based valuation, insurers will be required to hold the higher of (a) reserves using prescribed factors or (b) reserves which consider a wide range of future economic conditions and is computed using credible insurer experience factors specific to an insurer, such as mortality, policyholder behavior and expenses. By promulgating this rule, West Virginia provided clear guidance to both the insurance industry and to other states that West Virginia intended to begin reserving in accordance with principle based reserving effective January 1, 2017 and provided assurances of uniformity of reserving in these jurisdictions. There are no changes to the content of this rule since 2017 other than to extend the sunset date provision.

STATEMENT OF CIRCUMSTANCES WHICH REQUIRE THE RULE:

The Insurance Commissioner is seeking to amend an existing rule solely to extend the sunset date, which is currently May 19, 2022. This rule was initially promulgated in 2017 pursuant to W. Va. Code §33-7-9(n). The sunset date on this rule must be extended for the Insurance Commissioners office to maintain its accreditation with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.
